A PROBLEM IN RELATIVITY

Uniontown, Jan. 4. (INS.)—A mother and daughter and a father and son served as witnesses to each other's weddings in the Fayette county court house here today.

The first ceremony united Clarence Lee Hill, 25, of Brimleyville, and Mary Elizabeth Caldwell, 17, of Brownsville. Immediately afterward, Donald B. Hill, 49, father of Clarence, and Amy J. Caldwell, 44, mother of Mary, were married.

A Merry Mixup!

This is the home of Arthur J. Stobart, Jr., Morse avenue, East Bloomfield—or if you prefer East Orange, N. J. The dividing line of the two towns "cuts" the house in two. The family eats in one town and sleeps in another. Note the two fire hydrants—one in each town.

TWENTIETH CENTURY LIMITED TRAIN AGAIN HURLED FROM TRACK

And From Same Cause
As a Month Ago When
Car Stalled on Tracks;
Lady Luck Protects.

NOBODY IS INJURED

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 4. (INS.)—For the second time within a month, a stalled automobile brought the Twentieth Century Limited to grief early today when the second section of the New York Central's crack flyer struck an abandoned machine at the Union Road crossing here, hurling the giant locomotive of the westbound limited from the rails.

That the entire train was not wrecked, may be ascribed solely to good fortune.

With the Forsythe crossing disaster of Dec. 9 fresh in their memories, those in charge of the train acted quickly to avert possible repetition of that tragedy. The Depeve shops of the New York Central railroad were reached posthaste by wire and orders issued to set signals against any and all trains approaching from the East. Then a hurry up order for the wrecking crew was sent to the railroad offices here.

A sub-locomotive was rushed to the scene, hitched to the train and newed the journey westward after a delay of forty minutes.

Section No. 2 of the Limited was running about one hour late.

At the Union Road crossing, it hit the stalled automobile. The car was the property of James Kilgore. He said that he saw an engine light near from the west. He and a companion abandoned the car and dashed for safety.

The engine from the west however, was not running on the same tracks upon which the automobile had been abandoned. The two men were about to return to their car when the Twentieth Century came out of the east. Part of the stalled auto was hurled into a ditch. Part of it became entangled beneath the locomotive which with a bound in the air, jumped its rails, grinding over on to the adjoining track at the right. Passengers were awakened, but no one was hurt. A bad shaking up was administered to those in forward coaches.

AUTOS FIGURED IN 85 PER CENT OF ALL ACCIDENTS OF '23

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 4. (INS.)—Automobiles figured in 85 per cent of the total number of accidents in 1923, according to almost complete reports made to the Bureau of Accidents of the Department of Labor and Industry made public today. Of those killed and injured in the 1,024 accidents the 85 per cent of them were occupants of automobiles. The figures cover only accidents which occurred at steam railroad grade crossings.

A total of 190 persons were killed, and 595 injured in the accidents. Of those totals 137 of the dead and 503 of the injured were occupants of the 833 automobiles struck. Nineteen of the autos were driven through lowered gates and 81 struck after they had stalled on the tracks.

Fortune Smiles Late!

Irony of fate has separated Henry de la Motte, 36, of Chicago, from a fortune left him in Chantilly, France. The aged man is reputed a lineal descendant of French nobility, and when found by his daughter after a 25 year search was peddling pencils in the Windy City.

PLEAS OF FIVE YEAR OLD SON LEAD WORLD FAMOUS STEEPLEJACK AND WING WALKER TO QUIT PROFESSION

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4. (INS.)—The pleas of his five year old son that "papa stop doing those things" have ended the dare-devil career of "Fearless Phil" Phillips, world-famous steeplejack and airplane wing walker.

Today, he is answering to the call of "frown" in a local hotel and his most hazardous task is summoning the sleepy traveling salesman in tracts.

REPORT CLARION BRIDGE WILL BE FINISHED JAN. 20

DuBois, Pa., Jan. 4. 1924.—It is stated on what is considered reliable authority that the bridge at Clarion now being raised by the Clifton River power company, will be ready for use by the 20th of the present month. It is declared that the company is making very excellent progress in putting the approaches in shape and that traffic should be once more going over the bridge by the 20th. If this should prove to be true, it would be a best possible news that could be heard in this section of the country.

The detour at Clarion, necessitated because of the raising of the dam, has proven a regular bugbear to automobilists of this section, and so bad has been the detour most of the time that hundreds of drivers have simply abandoned any attempt to negotiate the steep and dangerous road that comprised it. At the present time the detour is said to be practically impassable, and this has been the condition several times during the year.

But even when fairly passable the detour was a dangerous piece of road to negotiate, proving treacherous. If the bridge is again placed in condition for use by the 20th of the current month, it will again open up the country to the north, making it possible for the Pittsburgh route by the way of Franklin and Oil City being used. Travel to Pittsburgh has practically ceased during the winter months, as the way by Indiana is impossible.

With the opening of the "bridge," the Lakes-to-the-Sea Highway will be in good shape for travel. On Tuesday of this week every detour on the road between DuBois and Clearfield was removed, according to users of the road yesterday. Those traveling to the county seat go practically the entire distance on concrete surface, the last detour, that of the below grade crossing between Clearfield and Carwensville being placed in service on Tuesday. It is with a great degree of comfort that travel can now be made between DuBois and the county seat.

BOY, 9, SAVED FROM FLAMES, RUSHES IN BURNING HOUSE AND IS BURNED TO DEATH

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 4. (INS.)—A child was burned to death and eight other persons narrowly escaped death here today in a fire which destroyed the home of Mrs. John G. Griffin, No. 2, near the town. The boy, an 8-year-old, was carried to safety with other members of the family but, panic stricken, ran back into the burning house, perishing before anyone could again reach him.

Normand And Purviance May Suffer The Fate Of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 3.—Mabel Normand has made her farewell film, a farce, in which she is the only person concerned, according to statement issued last night by Joel M. Dean, chairman of the Municipal Board of Censors, against Hollywood's latest motion picture scandal.

The screen star is to be barred permanently at the next meeting of Chairman Dean, Mrs. B. J. Ellis, and Perry Sholars, composing the board, the former indicated.

In the case of Edna Purviance, the censors are inclined to give her the benefit of the doubt and suspend judgment until further investigation results in a verdict of fact. "Mabel's pictures won't appear any more," Mr. Dean said, "but we are willing to give Edna the benefit of the doubt." "We are agreed," he went on to explain, "that if future developments lean out the present appearance, Mabel's pictures have been the last of both Mabel and Edna." "It would have a disastrous effect upon the youth of our community if we permitted people who have become notorious after such escapades, to continue to parade themselves in front of the screen. It would serve notice on your youth that you can commit any folly you please and get away with it."

FREE BANG CONCERT

The Clearfield Progress will give a concert on the July 1st and Sunday afternoon at 2:30 to which the public is cordially invited. The band is now under the direction of E. Mitchell and is making wonderful progress.

This concert is free and every music lover in the vicinity is cordially invited.

Rev. W. L. Armstrong, at 11:30 a. m. at Tyrone, where he officiated at the funeral of Edna Grant, a very close friend.

WITH DINES SHOT, MABEL SUBJECT OF APPENDICITIS OPERATION AND GREER TUBERCULAR, ONLY EDNA CAN TALK

It was said Miss Normand, who was operated on yesterday at the same hospital for chronic appendicitis was doing well. She was said to be able to return to her home within a week or two.

Greer Tubercular. Greer was under the care of a physician in his cell today. Stomach trouble has developed and medical examination confirmed his claim. It was said, that he is a sufferer from tuberculosis. He manifested no worry, however, over the outcome of his own case.

"Just wait until that little girl is herself again," he said, speaking of Miss Normand, "she will bear out the important part of my story that Dines reached for a bottle to strike me."

Miss Purviance planned to call at the hospital today to see Dines and Miss Normand. She repeated denial today that she and Dines are engaged. "Courtland has had two tries at condition."

Captain of Detectives Herman Cline, learned today to take an ante-mortem statement from Dines.

No written statement has yet been secured from the Depeve oil man. This will be secured, Cline said, because of the dangerous turn in Dine's condition.

INVESTIGATIONS OF ALL KINDS PROMISE TO FLOOD CONGRESS GREATER THAN EVER

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Jan. 4.—The 68th congress was threatened today with a deluge of investigations in a sea of inquiries and inquiries.

Veterans around the legislative halls at the capital declared that never before have so many congressional probes been agreed upon or proposed in so short a time as the present session has been under way.

No less than a score of investigations, some of them important and some of them relatively unimportant have been projected in the few short weeks congress has been on the job, and some of them already are assured.

Bok Peace Award.
A brand new one loomed in the offing today—an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the Bok peace plan, which is to be announced next Monday, and for which an energetic campaign of education will be launched simultaneously with its publication.

"The irreconcilables" in the Senate who have secured advance copies of the plan were strongly criticizing it today in the privacy of their offices and the lobbies of the capital, and threatening an investigation of "League of Nations propaganda" with which they asserted the corner is about to be deluged.

Senator James A. Reed, Democrat of Missouri, already has a resolution pending which would provide a sensational inquiry into the "propaganda and influences" designed to "control the foreign or domestic policies of the United States."

Russia Again.
Two others have already been agreed upon—one by the Senate foreign relations committee into the whole question of Russian recognition, and another by the Senate committee on privileges and elections into the validity of the title of Senator Paul H. Mayfield, Democrat of Texas, to his seat. This latter probe of a wild man into the Ku Klux Klan issue.

Other proposed investigations, some of which are considered certain of approval before many days, include:

Major General Leonard Wood's administration of the Philippines.

The sale of arms and munitions to war by the Coolidge administration to the Oregon government of Mexico, by Representative Fairchild, Republican, of New York.

The circumstances surrounding the chartering of an English vessel by the American Bar Association for next summer's pilgrimage to London, by Senator Jones, Republican, of Washington.

Campaign expenditures by presidential candidates, by Senator Canaway, Democrat, of Arkansas.

THREE WILL HANG AT MOUNDSVILLE, WEST VIRGINIA LATE TODAY

Moundsville, W. Va., Jan. 4. (INS.)—Three convicted black men murderers will be hanged at the penitentiary here at 5 o'clock tonight.

They are Nicholas Salomant, Philip Cuzar and Richard Ferri, alias "Dapper Dan," the Dean Edmund of the Harrison county jail, who is credited with having committed 17 murders. This will be the first time three men have been hanged at the same time here. They were convicted of the murder of Frank N. P. of New York, near Claraburg. All lived in Clarksburg.

Fishermen And Their Rescuers Lost In Big Storm Off South Bay

Babylon, N. Y., Jan. 4. (INS.)—Women of the fishing fleet were doing the storm toed off coast of Great South Bay today, fearing prayers.

Out in Fara Island inlet, their ragged and bravest men fought angry seas searching for traces of nine fishermen, who last night went to their deaths. Five others were rescued.

L. C. Egleston, with a crew of two men, John Virginian and a man named Williams, set out Wednesday to fish the Electric, a new power boat, to Bay Shore. He headed through Pine Island inlet. The sea was running high. His boat grounded on a bar.

Ashore his mother, Mrs. William Egleston, learning of the boat's plight, appealed to fishermen of the bay.

Captain Arnold Mayne, owner of the 40-foot power boat, the SSI, volunteered to go to the rescue. He picked up his crew. He took James Delaney and William McDonald, two of the best "wheel men" among the seafaring Frederick Baine, Garland Donaldson and Arthur Nolan, Isaac Claves, James Veltman, and B. T. Tolson.

As his boat pulled away two strangers jumped aboard.

Lead man, Bruce Delaney, McDonald and Donaldson—the men who came back—told a lively tale of hardship and suffering after the SSI reached sea.

It appeared Mayne's crew Egleston and his crew of two lying unconscious on the deck of the Electric.

Mayne got them aboard his boat and headed for shore. The sea was running higher. Rain fell in torrents. The rudder parted. Another wave snapped the propeller. The SSI was helpless. The next wave lifted the boat clear of the water.

At dawn today, a harbor manned boats and set out to sea. All they found, according to early reports, was life preservers and top wreckage of the boat.

THAW FAMILY WILL OPPOSE RELEASING OF HARRY KENDALL

Pittsburgh, Jan. 3.—Any efforts to obtain the release of Harry K. Thaw, will be opposed by his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, Howard Irish, of that city's estate announced today in a statement issued on behalf of the Thaw family.

M. Irish stated that Bartholomew Coyne New York attorney, who has announced that he would seek Thaw's freedom, "does not represent us in any way." The statement follows:

"Speaking for Mrs. Thaw, the family and myself as trustee, Mr. Coyne does not represent us in any way. If any such action as reported for Harry K. Thaw's release is started it will be opposed by Mrs. Thaw and the family."

Struck A Snag

Philadelphia, Jan. 3.—Bartholomew Coyne, New York lawyer, who has announced that he would seek Harry K. Thaw's freedom, from the Pennsylvania hospital for mental and nervous diseases, was refused admission to the hospital late today without credentials. Asked what his next step would be, he said there were several things he wanted to do before making a statement.

Philadelphia, Jan. 4. (INS.)—Efforts to release Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, from the Pennsylvania hospital for the insane, in this city, will be pushed despite opposition of members of the Thaw family. Bartholomew B. Coyne, of New York, counsel for Thaw said today.

Coyne was non-committal on the report that he was refused permission to see his client yesterday at the hospital. After calling at the hospital but as Judge J. Willis Martin, who confined Thaw to the hospital in 1917, was out of town the visit was futile.

There is a report here that Coyne's next move will be to obtain a writ of habeas corpus. Such an application would probably go before Judge Martin.

Dr. Elwood Kirby, Thaw's personal physician, indicated last night that he would be willing to apply for a writ as he considers his patient sane.

Washington, Pa. Church, One Of Finest In State, Burns In A Mystery Fire

Washington, Pa., Jan. (INS.)—The Roman Catholic church of the Immaculate Conception, said to be one of the finest churches in Western Pennsylvania, was virtually destroyed by fire starting from an unknown cause late last night. The church was built in 1891. Damage is estimated at $50,000.

marriage and I guess he was disgusted enough not to want to spoil a perfectly good friendship.

Some Manners Mabel.

"As for me, I am hearty and fancy five. Some day maybe I'll meet that man, the right one, but as yet I haven't met him."

"I'm too busy. Then I have Mother and my friends. They are coming enough for me. No one, not even a husband, could be better than about 500."

"I had to start this tale of me, being engaged to Courage just because I was in his apartment when his chauffeur went on his head and made all this mess."

"Miss Lawrence picked up a copy of a newspaper and pointed to a picture of Greece."

"Look at that face," she exclaimed. "Is that the face of a sane man, I ask you? Can't you see that man is irresponsible."

"Poor Mabel. There certainly is a jinx following her. Why, nobody knows. But oh, the secret tragedy in her life. If I could only tell you what a jinx she has."

"Nothing matters now but for court to get on," she declared.

Autos Flogged

...were killed after passing through lowered gates while there were 38 accidents due to failure of lower gates at protected crossings.

The bureau compares the accident report for last year to the year 1922 when there were but 48 grade crossing accidents. The increase for 1923 is 100 per cent in those killed and injured while that in the number of accidents is 2170.

Wettest Hours of Day.
The late afternoon and early evening hours are the wettest of the day. Investigation by weather bureau observers in different parts of this country show that in some sections where as much rain falls on the average between 5 and 8 p. m. as does between 8 a. m. and noon. This peculiarity of the weather is more pronounced in winter than in cool weather and is due to the rising temperature during the forenoon which enables the atmosphere to hold an increasing amount of water vapor, a condition which is reversed in the late hours of the day and complicated also by the frequency of summer thunderstorms during those hours.

Misunderstanding Somewhere.
A young fellow who fancied himself an artist bestowed a great deal of time and care on the production of a picture representing a cow grazing in a field. He showed it to a man, a painter in order to ascertain his opinion of his merits. The latter, after looking at it for a minute or two, handed it back to his visitor saying: "The ship is not bad but you've made the sea much too green."

All Great Problems of Our Day Becoming
More and More Psychological

By G. STANLEY HALL, in "Life of a Psychologist."

All the great problems of our age are becoming more and more psychological the better we understand them . . . and we have been caught unprepared.

Nearly all the disorders of our day are of psychic origin and are due to the fact that we have not realized that institutions were made for man and not man for them. Consciousness as we know it is only a part of entry and departure for a vast and yet only partially explored hinterland, although we already know far more here than has yet been put to use.

Practical psychology, which has done so much and will do far more in grading intelligence and in fitting men to their jobs, will transcend the fields of business and school, and address itself to a more comprehensive program. It will not present institutions, social, civic, political, industrial, religious, etc., to the nature of man, which is at least one, and may be several, hundred thousand years old, and thus relatively, not only to the present industrial system, but to all other even far older institutions, must be regarded more like the unchangeable laws and forces of the physical universe.

REDUCTION of TAXATION
EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION PROVIDED FOR

Copyright, 1922, by National Budget Committee

IN proposing a general reduction of taxes Secretary Mellon declares that the people of the country should receive the benefits of the substantial reductions which the revenues of the Government are now sufficient to justify. The President in his message speaks of relief for the people, of giving every home a chance of lifting burdens that weigh most heavily upon the poor. A fair inquiry is, then, the extent to which the reductions proposed do inure to the benefit of the people. How widely will they be distributed and in what proportion are the remissions to the several abilities of the beneficiaries to pay?

An examination of the table prepared by the Government Actuary to show the estimated results of the proposed revision discloses that the income taxes of 13,124,600 individuals with incomes of $1,000 to $6,000 will be reduced by $92,750,000 during the year 1925. The Government will take another loss of $52,100,000 on the income taxes of 538,200 individuals whose incomes range from $6,000 to $10,000 a year. In other words more than 65 per cent of the relief from income taxes which it is proposed to grant will be enjoyed by individuals with incomes of $10,000 or less who will constitute more than 93 per cent of all the individual income tax payers. According to these estimates income taxes to the amount of $72,285,000 will be remitted to the individuals whose incomes range from $10,000 to $100,000. That is to say 32 1/2 per cent of the proposed income tax relief will go to something over 23 per cent of the total number of individual income tax payers. The remaining $1,865,000, or a little more than 2 per cent of the proposed relief, will go to the 4,865 individuals having incomes of $100,000 or more.

When we come to analyze the fairness of these proposed reductions in the light of the ability of the several classes of individuals to pay income taxes, a difficulty arises because there are available no detailed estimates as to what would be paid in 1925 provided no changes were made in the present law. Some illumination may be obtained from the definitive figures for 1921, the last to be fully tabulated, although in those tables the segregation of classes differs somewhat from that made by the Government Actuary for 1925. These figures for 1921 show that individual taxpayers having incomes of from $1,000 to $5,000 paid only 12 1/2 per cent of the total income taxes for that year. Those receiving incomes from $5,000 to $10,000 paid 9 1/2 per cent of the total, and those receiving incomes of from $10,000 to $100,000 paid 49.42 per cent of the total, leaving 28.11 per cent to be paid by the 2,352 individuals, or 0.35 per cent of the total number of individuals paying income taxes, who received incomes in excess of $100,000.

Making due allowance for the different bases of computation, it would seem a fair conclusion that the proportionate distribution of the proposed tax remissions is just and reasonable.

TRADE RECORD
Trade of the United States with Mexico

Big gains in the percentage which we supply of her imports and take of her exports. We buy her natural products and pay for them in manufactures.

Trade of the United States with our next door neighbor at the south, Mexico, aggregated about $250,000,000 in the calendar year 1923, and $250,000,000 in the decade ending with 1923. While our trade relations with Mexico have always been good, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, they quite naturally improved after the beginning of the war in Europe from which Mexico had formerly drawn a considerable percentage of her imports. In the year prior to the opening of the war, the calendar year 1913, Mexico took only 48% of her imports from the United States although she was sending us 16% of her exports, but with the difficulties and dangers attending trans-Atlantic commerce during the war she developed the habit of buying a larger share of her imports from the United States and in 1920 she took 75% of her imports from this country as against 48% in the year preceding the war and sent us

88% of her exports as against 76% in the pre-war year. This growth in the trade relations between the United States and Mexico is further evidenced by our own trade figures which show that our exports to Mexico in the ten years since the beginning of the war have aggregated $1,129,000,000 against approximately $550,000,000 in the decade preceding the opening of the war. In the calendar year, 1922 the imports from Mexico were $132,000,000 and the exports thereto $110,000,000, while the latest available figures indicate that the imports from Mexico in the calendar year 1923 will be about $140,000,000 and the exports thereto about $120,000,000 bringing our total trade with Mexico in 1923 up to the quarter of a billion line against about 125 million dollars in 1913. In fact, the percentage which we supply of the imports of Mexico is greater than our share in the imports of any other important country. Canada takes about 69% of her imports from us while as of her imports from Mexico takes 75% of her imports from the United States.

What are the articles forming this big trade between the United States and Mexico? The merchandise chiefly manufacturing material, tropical foodstuffs, and the goods which we send to her are chiefly manufactures. In the calendar year 1922 we took from Mexico about 6,000,000 pounds of hides and skins, 373,000 pounds of cotton, nearly a half million dollars worth of mahogany lumber, about $25,000,000 worth of crude petroleum, nearly $8,000,000 worth of copper and 38,000,000 pounds of coffee. On the export side we sent her over a million pounds of bacon and hams, 574 million dollars worth of lard, $2,000,000 worth of eggs, nearly 3,000,000 pounds of canned salmon, about $2,000,000 worth of boots and shoes, a half million pounds of rice, nearly $2,000,000 worth of flour, a million pounds of raisins, 6,000,000 pounds of refined sugar, 3 1/2 million pounds of raw cotton, about 20,000,000 yards of cotton cloth, 1 1/2 million dollars worth of lumber, 3,000,000 pounds of paper, over $2,000,000 worth of refined petroleum, 6,000,000 pounds of tin plates, 14,000,000 pounds of wire, $5,000,000 worth of automobiles, and $1,000,000 worth of tires.

WATCH
REPAIRS

The rush of Christmas is over and we again turn our attention to the repairing of Watches and Clocks. You will find that our service for you is excellent and that your Watch or Clock comes out
"on time"—it will be ready when you want it will.

And we have men in our repair department who know how to make these repairs in the most workmanlike manner.
Bring that Watch or Clock which doesn't seem to keep good time, here and we'll make it keep the sort of time you'd like to see it keep.

Banking In Junior High Will Take A Spurt; Boys And Girls Renew Efforts

Last year, considerable rivalry was displayed in the perfecting of good nature between the Junior High boys and girls for the touch down that each group expected to make on the first banking day in 1923. And they were unmatchingly so.

The winning team of young men from the Junior High have a record of 100 per cent at first seemed to be a foregone conclusion. But their position was heartily taken up by every one, that each junior boy would win in any grade—no matter how small—in January 9 no less than two-thirds of all money Christmas gifts.

This community money as a Christmas gift is very largely used by parents and friends, especially for young people. Most of the Juniors, in particular the resolute and planning boys and girls, announce that they will bank all of their money for the purchase of gold, silver or no money. Parents, who have a hope for their children, will certainly encourage their sons and daughters to cultivate helpful habits, even this form of thrift through saving. Banking of many large sums will be required next week to "go over." It's to be at least two-thirds.

THE A. F. OF L. NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH THE MEXICAN REVOLTERS

Washington, Jan. 4 (INS).—The Revolutionary movement in Mexico finds no sympathy in the ranks of American labor, according to a telegram sent today to President Oregon by Frank Morrison, Secretary of the American Federation of Labor.

Morrison assured Oregon that Communications from rebel sources would be disregarded by American Labor officials.

Three Italian Villages Partially Destroyed By Recurring Earthquakes

London, Jan. 4 (INS).—Three Italian towns—Sengallia, Mondolfo and Giustananza—have been partially destroyed by earthquake shocks that raged in the province of Pesaro. It was said a central news dispatch from Rome this afternoon. They will have to be rebuilt.

Some quake casualties were reported from country districts of Pesaro Urbino Province.

Inhabitants of Mondolfo reported that a great fissure opened in the earth near Ponte Cassosse, giving up fire and smoke. There were rumbling noises beneath the ground on the Adriatic Coast.

Disturbances were reported at the bottom of the Adriatic by ships reaching port.

You very probably have cleaned out your files for 1923—correspondence and other records—and are planning on how you can put them away so you can make a quick recovery for reference.

We have plenty of the Y & E and ARIMETAL Transfer Files and they will keep all your records dustproof and in order as long as you want them there.

- And the cost of these files is small compared with the ease with which you will be able to locate what you want in a jiffy.

And speaking of champions, Well, you shouldn't forget "Broadus White Sox." He is the world's champion steer. Judge William Reid of Essex, England, sold him at the recent International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago. Broadus—what a pretty name—is owned by A. A. Armstrong & Son of Carmarson, Ill.

Crest Of Flood Which Menaced Pittsburgh Was Reached At 11:00 Today

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4 (U.S.)—The crest of the flood in the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers here has been reached and at 11 o'clock the waters started receding, the weather report here announced at noon.

The highest official stage was 26 feet. The predicted rise, it was said, was partially checked by cold weather, the thermometer having dropped to 17 degrees, the lowest point of the season, at 7 a. m. The river now is falling about 2 feet an hour and the stage will be about 24 tomorrow, the weather bureau said.

Traffic over one bridge here has been virtually suspended, and thousands of persons have been temporarily thrown out of work as a result of the high water.

HAND WAS BADLY MANGLED BOGGS TOWNSHIP
RESIDENT DIES

McClellan Rowles, of Hannah street, who had his hand so badly injured by a circular saw at the workshop of the Clearfield Textile plant on December 26th last, was about town yesterday. Mr. Rowles lost the entire thumb and the ends of three of the four fingers of his right hand in the accident. The third finger had been nipped off previously so that it escaped this last unfortunate slashing. The injured hand is healing nicely and Mr. Rowles philosophically observed while in our office that "nature was bad enough but it might have been worse."

M. Stammel, aged 69 years, 3 months and 13 days, died at his home in Biggs township, near Wallaceton, on Thursday morning at 3:40 o'clock. Death was due to ~~leber~~ pneumonia after a brief illness.

He is survived by his wife and seven children. Services will be held from his late residence at 10 o'clock on Sunday, with interment at Biggs cemetery. Fred B. Leavy, funeral director in charge.

AFTER MIDNIGHT
An Unrivalled Short Story Series by
W. L. GEORGE
Begins in This Paper, January 10

HERE'S A SCENE FROM ONE OF THESE MARVELOUS TALES—"THE SLIPPER OF RED BROCADE."

Critics hail W. L. George as "one of the most brilliant writers of the younger English school."

In "After Midnight" he has surpassed himself.

These stories rank with the gems of Poe, Bret Harte, Robert Louis Stevenson, Kipling—supreme masters of the tale-teller's art. So simple in style that even a child can enjoy them, they are the delight of the most fastidious judges of literature.

For ingenuity of plot, for wit and charm of dialogue, for oddity of situation and incident, for picturesqueness in delineation of character, for unexpectedness in the turn of events and for gripping interest they are unequalled.

Six Stories in the Series:

- THE SHOT IN THE NIGHT
IN A LEGATEE'S SHOES
THE STOLEN BABY
- THE SLIPPER OF RED BROCADE
THE WAX LADY
THE POISONED GIRL

Each One a Perfect Literary Cameo

Johnson Makes A Strong Bid For Support In The Mid-Western States

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 4. (AP.)—Having delivered a message bristling with the spirit of battle in which he pledged himself to keep up the fight for his principles until the Republicans meet next June to adopt a platform and nominate a candidate for President, Senator Hiram Johnson, opponent of President Coolidge for the Republican presidential nomination, today plunged into a series of conferences designed to build fighting organizations in the great mid-western states, including Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska and Iowa.

The selection of state managers to a number of states including Ohio to be determined today, and it may be that the candidate's speaking itinerary, covering Ohio and other states will be drafted at this time.

Sen. Johnson's speech last night, the Californian assailed the policy and alleged lack of policy which characterized the administration.

He declared the action of the administration in selling arms and munitions of war to Mexico was "immoral, if not illegal."

For Health Proper Drugs

Damp weather or sudden changes mean colds and various other ailments. Protection will keep you from the hospital—here you will find the proper drug that you may desire.

Here Are Cold Tablets To Break Up Colds

Without a doubt there should be something of this sort in every farmer's home medicine cabinet. The tablets are easy to take than a lot of the old home remedies.

Laxative Bromo Quinine 30c.
Cascara Bromide of Quinine 30c.
Lane's Cold Tablets 25c.
Week's Break-a-Cold Tablets 25c.
Rexall Special Cold Tablets 25c.
Rexall Laxative Aspirin 25c.
Stearns' Nip-A-Cold Tablets 25c.
Rexall's Cold Tablets 25c.
Rexall Grip Tablets 35c.
Papes Cold Compound 35c.

Break Up That Cough Easily and Quickly

Nothing more annoying than a mean cough that seems to sort of fling on and hang on. But among these remedies, you will find one which will go right to the seat of the trouble and get results.

Bloom's Coughfoot and Cod Liver Cough Balm 50c.
Rexall Cherry Bark Cough Syrup 35c.
Horsehound Pine Expectant 30c.
White Pine, Mentholatum with Tar 30c.
Limead and Turpentine Cough Syrup 35c.
Kemp's Balsam 30c and 60c.

When Colds Get Harsh Here's A Quick Relief

Sometimes the cold in the head "goes down onto the chest" and then you want to break it up as soon as possible. Here are some of the homely remedies which will help materially.

Vick's Vapo-O-Balm 35c.
Menthol 35c.
Red Pepper Rub 60c.

The New Touring Car $295

A Striking Value—at $295

Considering the improved appearance of the new Ford Touring Car, one would naturally expect a proportionate advance in price.

Larger scale production, however, has made it possible to incorporate in this new type touring car a number of decided improvements without increasing its cost to the purchaser.

A comparison extending over a long period of years will reveal the fact that the present price is actually the lowest at which the five-passenger open car has ever been sold.

The Ford Touring Car stands today, as it always has, a most remarkable value in the motor car field.

These cars can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

A PROBLEM IN RELATIVITY

Uniontown, Jan. 4. (INS.)—A mother and daughter and a father and son served as witnesses to each other's weddings in the Fayette county court house here today.

The first ceremony united Clarence Lee Hill, 25, of Brimleyville, and Mary Elizabeth Caldwell, 17, of Brownsville. Immediately afterward, Donald B. Hill, 49, father of Clarence, and Amy J. Caldwell, 44, mother of Mary, were married.

A Merry Mixup!

This is the home of Arthur J. Stobart, Jr., Morse avenue, East Bloomfield—or if you prefer East Orange, N. J. The dividing line of the two towns "cuts" the house in two. The family eats in one town and sleeps in another. Note the two fire hydrants—one in each town.

TWENTIETH CENTURY LIMITED TRAIN AGAIN HURLED FROM TRACK

And From Same Cause
As a Month Ago When
Car Stalled on Tracks;
Lady Luck Protects.

NOBODY IS INJURED

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 4. (INS.)—For the second time within a month, a stalled automobile brought the Twentieth Century limited to grief early today when the second section of the New York Central's crack flyer struck an abandoned machine at the Union Road crossing here, hurling the giant locomotive of the westbound limited from the rails.

That the entire train was not wrecked, may be ascribed solely to good fortune.

With the Forsythe crossing disaster of Dec. 9 fresh in their memories, those in charge of the train acted quickly to avert possible repetition of that tragedy. The Depeve shops of the New York Central railroad were reached posthaste by wire and orders issued to set signals against any and all trains approaching from the East. Then a hurry up order for the wrecking crew was sent to the railroad offices here.

A sub-locomotive was rushed to the scene, hitched to the train and newed the journey westward after a delay of forty minutes.

Section No. 2 of the Limited was running about one hour late.

At the Union Road crossing, it hit the stalled automobile. The car was the property of James Kilgore. He said that he saw an engine light near from the west. He and a companion abandoned the car and dashed for safety.

The engine from the west however, was not running on the same tracks upon which the automobile had been abandoned. The two men were about to return to their car when the Twentieth Century came out of the east. Part of the stalled auto was hurled into a ditch. Part of it became entangled beneath the locomotive which with a bound in the air, jumped its rails, grinding over on to the adjoining track at the right. Passengers were awakened, but no one was hurt. A bad shaking up was administered to those in forward coaches.

AUTOS FIGURED IN 85 PER CENT OF ALL ACCIDENTS OF '23

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 4. (INS.)—Automobiles figured in 85 per cent of the total number of accidents in 1923, according to almost complete reports made to the Bureau of Accidents of the Department of Labor and Industry made public today. Of those killed and injured in the 1,024 accidents the 85 per cent of them were occupants of automobiles. The figures cover only accidents which occurred at steam railroad grade crossings.

A total of 180 persons were killed, and 595 injured in the accidents. Of those totals 137 of the dead and 503 of the injured were occupants of the 833 automobiles struck. Nineteen of the autos were driven through lowered gates and 81 struck after they had stalled on the tracks.

Fortune Smiles Late!

Irony of fate has separated Henry de la Motte, 36, of Chicago, from a fortune left him in Chantilly, France. The aged man is reputed a lineal descendant of French nobility, and when found by his daughter after a 25 year search was peddling pencils in the Windy City.

PLEAS OF FIVE YEAR OLD SON LEAD WORLD FAMOUS STEEPLEJACK AND WING WALKER TO QUIT PROFESSION

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4. (INS.)—The pleas of his 5 year old son that "papa stop doing those things" have ended the dare-devil career of "Fearless Phil" Phillips, world-famous steeple-jack and airplane wing walker. Today, he is answering to the call of "frown" in a local hotel and his most hazardous task is summoning the sleepy traveling salesman in tracts.

REPORT CLARION BRIDGE WILL BE FINISHED JAN. 20

DuBois, Pa., Jan. 4. 1924.—It is stated on what is considered reliable authority that the bridge at Clarion now being raised by the Clifton River power company, will be ready for use by the 20th of the present month. It is declared that the company is making very excellent progress in putting the approaches in shape and that traffic should be once more going over the bridge by the 20th. If this should prove to be true, it would be a best possible news that could be heard in this section of the country.

The detour at Clarion, necessitated because of the raising of the dam, has proven a regular bugbear to automobilists of this section, and so bad has been the detour most of the time that hundreds of drivers have simply abandoned any attempt to negotiate the steep and dangerous road that comprised it. At the present time the detour is said to be practically impassable, and this has been the condition several times during the year.

But even when fairly passable the detour was a dangerous piece of road to negotiate, proving treacherous.

If the bridge is again placed in condition for use by the 20th of the current month, it will again open up the country to the north, making it possible for the Pittsburgh route by the way of Franklin and Oil City being used. Travel to Pittsburgh has practically ceased during the winter months, as the way by Indiana is impossible.

With the opening of the "bridge," the Lakes-to-the-Sea Highway will be in good shape for travel. On Tuesday of this week every detour on the road between DuBois and Clearfield was removed, according to users of the road yesterday. Those traveling to the county seat go practically the entire distance on concrete surface, the last detour, that of the below grade crossing between Clearfield and Carwensville being placed in service on Tuesday. It is with a great degree of comfort that travel can now be made between DuBois and the county seat.

BOY, 9, SAVED FROM FLAMES, RUSHES IN BURNING HOUSE AND IS BURNED TO DEATH

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 4. (INS.)—A child was burned to death and eight other persons narrowly escaped death here today in a fire which destroyed the home of Mrs. John G. Griffin, No. 2, near the town. The boy, an 8-year-old, was carried to safety with other members of the family but, panic stricken, ran back into the burning house, perishing before anyone could again reach him.

Normand And Purviance May Suffer The Fate Of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 3.—Mabel Normand has made her farewell film, a farce, in which she is the only person concerned, according to statement issued last night by J. M. Dean, chairman of the Municipal Board of Censors, against Hollywood's latest motion picture scandal. The screen star is to be barred permanently at the next meeting of Chairman Dean, Mrs. B. J. Ellis, and Perry Sholars, composing the board, the former indicated.

In the case of Edna Purviance, the censors are inclined to give her the benefit of the doubt and suspend judgment until further investigation results in a verdict of fact.

"Mabel's pictures won't appear any more," Mr. Dean said, "but we are willing to give Edna the benefit of the doubt."

"We are agreed," he went on to explain, "that if future developments lean out the present appearance, Mabel's pictures have been the last of both Mabel and Edna."

"It would have a disastrous effect upon the youth of our community if we permitted people who have become notorious after such escapades, to continue to parade themselves on the screen. It would serve notice on your youth that you can commit any folly you please and get away with it."

FREE BANG CONCERT

The Clearfield Progress will give a concert at the DuBois High School on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 to which the public is cordially invited. The band is now under the direction of E. Mitchell and is making wonderful headway.

This concert is free and every music lover in the vicinity is cordially invited.

Rev. W. L. Armstrong, at 11:30 a. m. at Tyrone, where he officiated at the funeral of Edna Grant, a very close friend.

WITH DINES SHOT, MABEL SUBJECT OF APPENDICITIS OPERATION AND GREER TUBERCULAR, ONLY EDNA CAN TALK

WITH DINE SHOT, MABEL -
By WILLIAM G. CAYE
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 4.—"Watchful waiting," characterized the situation today in the case of Mabel Normand, who is suffering from appendicitis, and Greer Garson, who is suffering from tuberculosis, and only Edna Purviance, one of the screen's brightest stars, is able to talk.

Police awaited the arrival of the double bayonet Dines in making at the hospital against the effects of the bullet wound and pneumonia, while the Hollywood film colony waited the arrival of Will Hays, chief mentor of filmdom, reported running westward to investigate the affair involving Miss Normand and Edna Purviance, two of the screen's brightest stars.

Captain of Detectives Herman Cline, learned today to take an ante-mortem statement from Dines.

No written statement has yet been secured from the Depeve oil man. This will be secured, Cline said, because of the dangerous turn in Dine's condition.

Miss Purviance planned to call at the hospital today to see Dines and Miss Normand. She repeated denial today that she and Dines are engaged. "Courtland has had two tries at me," she said.

INVESTIGATIONS OF ALL KINDS PROMISE TO FLOOD CONGRESS GREATER THAN EVER

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Jan. 4.—The 68th congress was threatened today with a deluge of investigations in a sea of inquiries and inquiries.

Veterans around the legislative halls at the capitol declared that never before have so many congressional probes been agreed upon or proposed in so short a time as the present session has been under way.

No less than a score of investigations, some of them important and some of them relatively unimportant have been projected in the few short weeks congress has been on the job, and some of them already are assured.

A brand new one loomed in the offing today—an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the Bok peace plan, which is to be announced next Monday, and for which an energetic campaign of education will be launched simultaneously with its publication.

The "irreconcilables" in the Senate who have secured advance copies of the plan were strongly criticizing it today in the privacy of their offices and the lobbies of the capitol, and threatening an investigation of "League of Nations propaganda" with which they asserted the corner is about to be deluged.

Senator James A. Reed, Democrat of Missouri, already has a resolution pending which would provide a sensational inquiry into the "propaganda and influences" designed to "control the foreign or domestic policies of the United States."

Two others have already been agreed upon—one by the Senate foreign relations committee into the whole question of Russian recognition, and another by the Senate committee on privileges and elections into the validity of the title of Senator Paul H. Mayfield, Democrat of Texas, to his seat. This latter probe of a wild man into the Ku Klux Klan issue.

Other proposed investigations, some of which are considered certain of approval before many days, include:

Major General Leonard Wood's administration of the Philippines.

The sale of arms and munitions to war by the Coolidge administration to the Oregon government of Mexico, by Representative Fairchild, Republican, of New York.

THREE WILL HANG AT MOUNDSVILLE, WEST VIRGINIA LATE TODAY

Moundsville, W. Va., Jan. 4. (INS.)—Three convicted black men murderers will be hanged at the penitentiary here at 5 o'clock tonight.

They are Nicholas Salomant, Philip Cuzar and Richard F. F. alias "Super Dan," the Dean Edmund of the Harrison county jail, who is credited with having committed 17 murders. This will be the first time three men have been hanged at the same time here. They were convicted of the murder of Frank N. P. of New York, near Claraburg. All lived in Clarksburg.

Fishermen And Their Rescuers Lost In Big Storm Off South Bay

Babylon, N. Y., Jan. 4. (INS.)—Women of the fishing fleet were doing the storm toed off coast of Great South Bay today, fearing prayers.

Out in Fara Island inlet, their ragged and bravest men fought against seas searching for traces of nine fishermen, who last night went to their deaths. Five others were rescued.

L. C. Edeleston, with a crew of two men, John Virginian and a man named Williams, set out Wednesday to fish the Electric, a new power boat, to Bay Shore. He headed through Pine Island inlet. The sea was running high. His boat grounded on a bar.

As shore his mother, Mrs. William Edeleston, learning of the boat's plight, appealed to fishermen of the bay.

Captain Arnold Mayne, owner of the 40-foot power boat, the S. I., volunteered to go to the rescue. He picked up his crew. He took James Delaney and William McDonald, two of the best "wheel men" among the seafaring Frederick Baine, Garland Donaldson and Arthur Nolan, Isaac Claves, James Veltman, and B. I. Tolson.

As his boat pulled away two strangers jumped aboard.

Lead man, Baine, Delaney, McDonald and Donaldson—the men who came back—told a lively tale of hardship and suffering after the S. I. reached sea.

It appeared Mayne's crew Edeleston and his crew of two lying unconscious on the deck of the Electric.

Mayne got them aboard his boat and headed for shore. The sea was running higher. Rain fell in torrents. The rudder parted. Another wave snapped the propeller. The S. I. was helpless. The next wave lifted the boat clear of the water.

At dawn today, a harbor manned boats and set out to sea. All they found, according to early reports, was life preservers and top wreckage of the two boats.

THAW FAMILY WILL OPPOSE RELEASING OF HARRY KENDALL

Pittsburgh, Jan. 3.—Any efforts to obtain the release of Harry K. Thaw, will be opposed by his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, Howard Irish, of Thaw's estate announced today in a statement issued on behalf of the Thaw family.

M. Irish stated that Bartholomew Coyne New York attorney, who has announced that he would seek Thaw's freedom, "does not represent us in any way." The statement follows:

"Speaking for Mrs. Thaw, the family and myself as trustee, Mr. Coyne, does not represent us in any way. If any such action as reported for Harry K. Thaw's release is started it will be opposed by Mrs. Thaw and the family."

Struck a Snag
Philadelphia, Jan. 3.—Bartholomew Coyne, New York lawyer, who has announced that he would seek Harry K. Thaw's freedom, from the Pennsylvania hospital for mental and nervous diseases, was refused admission to the hospital late today without credentials. Asked what his next step would be, he said there were several things he wanted to do before making a statement.

Philadelphia, Jan. 4. (INS.)—Efforts to release Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, from the Pennsylvania hospital for the insane, in this city, will be pushed despite opposition of members of the Thaw family. Bartholomew B. Coyne, of New York, counsel for Thaw said today.

Coyne was non-committal on the report that he was refused permission to see his client yesterday at the hospital. After calling at the hospital but as Judge J. Willis Martin, who confined Thaw to the hospital in 1917, was out of town the visit was futile.

There is a report here that Coyne's next move will be to obtain a writ of habeas corpus. Such an application would probably go before Judge Martin.

Dr. Elwood Kirby, Thaw's personal physician, indicated last night that he would be willing to apply for a writ as he considers his patient sane.

Washington, Pa. Church, One Of Finest In State, Burns In A Mystery Fire

Washington, Pa., Jan. 4. (INS.)—The Roman Catholic church of the Immaculate Conception, said to be one of the finest churches in Western Pennsylvania, was virtually destroyed by fire starting from an unknown cause late last night. The church was built in 1891. Damage is estimated at $50,000.

ARMY NAMES PERSONNEL FOR AIR TRIP WHICH WILL CIRCUMNAVIGATE GLOBE

Washington, Jan. 4. (INS.)—Plans of the army for the circumnavigation of the globe by air moved toward completion today with the announcement of the personnel of the team of fliers who will make the trip.

The flight commander will be Major Frederick L. Martin, now commanding the air service Technical School at Rantoul, Illinois, and associated with him will be Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, Erik H. Nelson and Leigh Wade, with Lieut. Leslie P. Arnold and Leilaire D. Schultze as alternates.

"I'm too busy. Then I have Mother and my friends. They are coming enough for me. No one, not even a husband, could be better than them."

"I had to start this tale of me, being engaged to someone just because I was in his apartment when my chauffeur went on his head and made all this mess."

"Miss Lawrence picked up a copy of a newspaper and pointed to a picture of Green."

"Look at that face," she exclaimed. "Is that the face of a sane man, I ask you? Can't you see that man is irresponsible."

"Poor Mabel. There certainly is a jinx following her. Why, nobody knows. But oh, the secret tragedy in her life. If I could only tell you what a jinx she has."

"Nothing matters now but for court to get on," she declared.

...were killed after passing through lowered gates while there were 38 accidents due to failure of lower gates at protected crossings.

The bureau compares the accident report for last year to the year 1922 when there were but 48 grade crossing accidents. The increase for 1923 is 100 per cent in those killed and injured while that in the number of accidents is 2170.

Takes "Gas Bus" Along

Captain Reginald Belknap of the U. S. S. Colorado received a present of an auto and took it along with him when the Colorado left for Italy the other day. Photo shows it being hoisted on deck at New York City. Captain Belknap will use it when he reaches foreign lands.

Wettest Hours of Day.
The late afternoon and early evening hours are the wettest of the day. Investigation by weather bureau observers in different parts of this country show that in some sections where as much rain falls on the average between 5 and 8 p. m. as does between 8 a. m. and noon. This peculiarity of the weather is more pronounced in winter than in cool weather and is due to the rising temperature during the forenoon which enables the atmosphere to hold an increasing amount of water vapor, a condition which is reversed in the late hours of the day and complicated also by the frequency of summer thunderstorms during those hours.

Misunderstanding Somewhere.
A young fellow who fancied himself an artist bestowed a great deal of time and care on the production of a picture representing a cow grazing in a field. He showed it to a man, a painter in order to ascertain his opinion of his merits. The latter, after looking at it for a minute or two, handed it back to his visitor saying: "The ship is not bad but you've made the sea much too green."

All Great Problems of Our Day Becoming
More and More Psychological

By G. STANLEY HALL, in "Life of a Psychologist."

All the great problems of our age are becoming more and more psychological the better we understand them . . . and we have been caught unprepared.

Nearly all the disorders of our day are of psychic origin and are due to the fact that we have not realized that institutions were made for man and not man for them. Consciousness as we know it is only a part of a vast and yet only partially explored hinterland, although we already know far more here than has yet been put to use.

Practical psychology, which has done so much and will do far more in grading intelligence and in fitting men to their jobs, will transcend the fields of business and school, and address itself to a more comprehensive program. It will not present institutions, social, civic, political, industrial, religious, etc., to the nature of man, which is at least one, and may be several, hundred thousand years old, and thus relatively, not only to the present industrial system, but to all other even far older institutions, must be regarded more like the unchangeable laws and forces of the physical universe.

REDUCTION of TAXATION
EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION PROVIDED FOR

Copyright, 1922, by National Budget Committee

IN proposing a general reduction of taxes, Secretary Mellon declares that the people of the country should receive the benefits of the substantial reductions which the revenues of the Government are now sufficient to justify. The President in his message speaks of relief for the people, of giving every home a chance of lifting burdens that weigh most heavily upon the poor. A fair inquiry is, then, the extent to which the reductions proposed do inure to the benefit of the people. How widely will they be distributed and in what proportion are the remissions to the several abilities of the beneficiaries to pay?

An examination of the table prepared by the Government Actuary to show the estimated results of the proposed revision discloses that the income taxes of 13,124,600 individuals with incomes of $1,000 to $6,000 will be reduced by $92,750,000 during the year 1925. The Government will take another loss of $52,100,000 on the income taxes of 538,200 individuals whose incomes range from $6,000 to $10,000 a year. In other words more than 65 per cent of the relief from income taxes which it is proposed to grant will be enjoyed by individuals with incomes of $10,000 or less who will constitute more than 93 per cent of all the individual income tax payers. According to these estimates income taxes to the amount of $72,285,000 will be remitted to the individuals whose incomes range from $10,000 to $100,000. That is to say 32 1/2 per cent of the proposed income tax relief will go to something over 23 per cent of the total number of individual income tax payers. The remaining $1,865,000, or a little more than 2 per cent of the proposed relief, will go to the 4,865 individuals having incomes of $100,000 or more.

When we come to analyze the fairness of these proposed reductions in the light of the ability of the several classes of individuals to pay income taxes, a difficulty arises because there are available no detailed estimates as to what would be paid in 1925 provided no changes were made in the present law. Some illumination may be obtained from the definitive figures for 1921, the last to be fully tabulated, although in those tables the segregation of classes differs somewhat from that made by the Government Actuary for 1925. These figures for 1921 show that individual taxpayers having incomes of from $1,000 to $5,000 paid only 12 1/2 per cent of the total income taxes for that year. Those receiving incomes from $5,000 to $10,000 paid 9 1/2 per cent of the total, and those receiving incomes from $10,000 to $100,000 paid 49.42 per cent of the total, leaving 28.11 per cent to be paid by the 2,352 individuals, or 0.35 per cent of the total number of individuals paying income taxes, who received incomes in excess of $100,000.

Making due allowance for the different bases of computation, it would seem a fair conclusion that the proportionate distribution of the proposed tax remissions is just and reasonable.

TRADE RECORD
Trade of the United States with Mexico

Big gains in the percentage which we supply of her imports and take of her exports. We buy her natural products and pay for them in manufactures.

Trade of the United States with our next door neighbor at the south, Mexico, aggregated about $250,000,000 in the calendar year 1923, and $250,000,000 in the decade ending with 1923. While our trade relations with Mexico have always been good, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, they quite naturally improved after the beginning of the war in Europe from which Mexico had formerly drawn a considerable percentage of her imports. In the year prior to the opening of the war, the calendar year 1913, Mexico took only 48 per cent of her imports from the United States, but with the difficulties and dangers attending trans-Atlantic commerce during the war she developed the habit of buying a larger share of her imports from the United States and in 1920 she took 75 per cent of her imports from this country as against 48 per cent in the year preceding the war and sent us

88 per cent of her exports as against 76 per cent in the pre-war year. This growth in the trade relations between the United States and Mexico is further evidenced by our own trade figures which show that our exports to Mexico in the ten years since the beginning of the war have aggregated $1,129,000,000 against $550,000,000 in the decade preceding the opening of the war. In the calendar year, 1922 the imports from Mexico were $132,000,000 and the exports thereto $110,000,000, while the latest available figures indicate that the imports from Mexico in the calendar year 1923 will be about $140,000,000 and the exports thereto about $120,000,000, bringing our total trade with Mexico in 1923 up to the quarter of a billion line against about 125 million dollars in 1913. In fact, the percentage which we supply of the imports of Mexico is greater than our share in the imports of any other important country. Canada takes about 69 per cent of her imports from the United States, while Mexico takes 75 per cent of her imports from the United States.

What are the articles forming this big trade between the United States and Mexico? The merchandise chiefly manufactured material and tropical foodstuffs, and the exports which we send to her are chiefly manufactures. In the calendar year 1922 we took from Mexico about 6,000,000 pounds of hides and skins, 373,000 pounds of cotton, nearly a half million dollars worth of mahogany lumber, about $25,000,000 worth of crude petroleum, nearly $8,000,000 worth of copper and 38,000,000 pounds of coffee. On the export side we sent her over a million pounds of bacon and hams, 574 million dollars worth of lard, $2,000,000 worth of eggs, nearly 3,000,000 pounds of canned salmon, about $2,000,000 worth of boots and shoes, a half million pounds of rice, nearly $2,000,000 worth of flour, a million pounds of raisins, 6,000,000 pounds of refined sugar, 3 1/2 million pounds of raw cotton, about 20,000,000 yards of cotton cloth, 1 1/2 million dollars worth of lumber, 3,000,000 pounds of paper, over $2,000,000 worth of refined petroleum, 6,000,000 pounds of tin plates, 14,000,000 pounds of wire, $5,000,000 worth of automobiles, and $1,000,000 worth of tires.

Ranking In Junior High Will Take A Spurt; Boys And Girls Renew Efforts

Last year, considerable rivalry was displayed in the Junior High boys and girls for the tough down that each group expected to make on the first ranking day in 1923. And they were not disappointed. The boys' team was unmatched in the past, and the girls' team was not far behind. The boys' team had a record of 100 points, while the girls' team had a record of 95 points. The boys' team was led by John Smith, and the girls' team was led by Mary Jones. The boys' team was expected to make a record of 110 points, while the girls' team was expected to make a record of 105 points. The boys' team was expected to make a record of 110 points, while the girls' team was expected to make a record of 105 points.

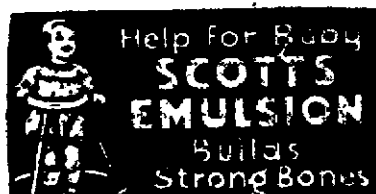

This community money as a Christmas gift is very largely used by parents and friends, especially for young people. Most of the Juniors, in particular, the resolute and planning boys and girls, announce that they will bank all of their money for the Christmas gift. Parents, who have heard of their children, will certainly encourage their sons and daughters to cultivate helpful habits by even this form of thrift through saving. Ranking of many large sums will be required next week to "go over." It's to be at least two-thirds.

THE A. F. OF L. NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH THE MEXICAN REVOLTERS

Washington, Jan. 4 (INS).—The Revolutionary movement in Mexico finds no sympathy in the ranks of American labor, according to a telegram sent today to President Obregon by Frank Morrison, Secretary of the American Federation of Labor. Morrison assured Obregon that communications from rebel sources would be disregarded by American Labor officials.

Three Italian Villages Partially Destroyed By Recurring Earthquakes

London, Jan. 4 (INS).—Three Italian towns—Senigallia, Mondolfo and Constanza—have been partially destroyed by earthquake shocks that raged in the province of Pesaro. A central news dispatch from Rome this afternoon says they will have to be rebuilt. Some quake casualties were reported from country districts of Pesaro and Urbino Province. Inhabitants of Mondolfo reported that a great fissure opened in the earth near Ponte Cassese, giving up fire and smoke. There were rumbling noises beneath the ground on the Adriatic Coast. Disturbances were reported at the bottom of the Adriatic by ships reaching port.

HAND WAS BADLY MANGLED BOGGS TOWNSHIP RESIDENT DIES

McClellan Rowles, of Hannah Creek, who had his hand so badly mangled by a circular saw at the workshop of the Clearfield Textile plant on December 28th last, was about town yesterday. Mr. Rowles lost the entire thumb and the ends of three of the four fingers of his right hand in the accident. The third finger had been nipped off previously so it escaped this last unfortunate slashing. The injured hand is healing nicely and Mr. Rowles philosophically observed while in our office that sure was bad enough but it might have been worse.

Crest Of Flood Which Menaced Pittsburgh Was Reached At 11:00 Today

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4 (INS).—The crest of the flood in the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers here has been reached and at 11 o'clock the waters started receding, the weather bureau here announced at noon. The highest official stage was 27 feet. The predicted rise, it was said, was partially checked by cold weather, the thermometer having dropped to 17 degrees, the lowest point of the season, at 7 a. m. The river now is falling about 2 feet an hour and the stage will be about 24 tomorrow, the weather bureau said. Traffic over one bridge has been virtually suspended, and thousands of persons have been temporarily thrown out of work as a result of the high water.

AFTER MIDNIGHT

An Unrivalled Short Story Series by

W. L. GEORGE

HERE'S A SCENE FROM ONE OF THESE MARVELOUS TALES—"THE SLIPPER OF RED BROCADE."

Critics hail W. L. George as "one of the most brilliant writers of the younger English school." In "After Midnight" he has surpassed himself. These stories rank with the genius of Poe, Bret Harle, Robert Louis Stevenson, Kipling—supreme masters of the tale-teller's art. So simple in style that even a child can enjoy them, they are the delight of the most fastidious judges of literature. For ingenuity of plot, for wit and charm of dialogue, for oddity of situation and incident, for picturesqueness in delineation of character, for unexpectedness in the turn of events and for gripping interest they are unequalled.

Six Stories in the Series:

THE SHOT IN THE NIGHT THE SLIPPER OF RED BROCADE
IN A LEGATEE'S SHOES THE WAX LADY
THE STOLEN BABY THE POISONED GIRL

Each One a Perfect Literary Cameo

Tom Sims SAYS---

The railroad industry had a good year in 1923. By packers we do not mean street car companies.

The price of pig iron is so high we know where they can get some bituminous for a substitute.

Demands for locomotives is increasing. Why don't auto drivers look and listen at crossings?
